

Put Paper Towels and Napkins in the Trash

Paper towels and napkins must go in the trash.

Both of these paper products use paper fibers that have already been broken down to their smallest usable components, therefore they are not able to be recycled.

To learn more about what is and isn't recyclable, download the Recycle Coach app today

